Sunlight and shadows

Early morning sunlight streams through the rose window at Christ Episcopal Church and falls on the shrouded cross and altar, a reminder of the agony of the crucifixion and the promise of Easter Sunday. Ministers of six faiths will gather with worshippers Easter morning at 6:30 a.m. on the front lawn of the church for a sunrise service sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce. Participating will be Rev. Bernard Walton, Rev. Nathan Barber, Rev. Lawrence Collins, Fr. Gregory Johnson and Rev. D. M. Mounger. Br. Pierre of St. Stanislaus will lead the gathering in singing and a singing group from St. Augustine Seminary will present a program of special music. All the public is invited to attend.

$1.5 million bond election is approved by supervisors

County supervisors Monday afternoon moved quickly to squarely shoulder pressure for calling a $1.5 million bond election for county school improvements, approving a resolution introduced earlier by attorney Joseph Gex Jr. on behalf of the Hancock County School Board.

The resolution cites present and future educational needs of people within the school district as necessitating improvements and additions to existing school buildings and the construction of a new high school in the southern part of the county.

School board members last week accepted a proposal from Proffer, Teague & Ashton, Architects and Engineers of Gulfport to do additions at Charles B. Murphy School and Hancock North Central and to construct a completely new high school on the grounds of the Gulfview Elementary School. Total estimated cost of the proposal was $1,519,000.

In asking for a $1,555,000 bond issue Monday, Gex said the board intended to add the $46,000 in excess over the proposal to cost estimates for a new gymnasium at North Central School.

The proposals for Charles B. Murphy and North Central Schools call for the construction of four classrooms and two restroom facilities at Murphy at an estimated cost of $102,000 and the construction of a new gymnasium and cafeteria at North Central at an estimated cost of $381,000.

The remaining $940,000 from the Proffer, Teague and Ashton proposal would be spent on construction of a new high school to consist of complete classroom facilities, science and home economic departments, industrial arts, dressing room facilities, gymnasium, field house, sewerage plant and administration offices.

Though acceptance by the supervisors Monday does not make it incumbent upon them to actually call a bond election, Gex explained such action was necessary before any such election "could" be called.

Under law, the supervisors have 60 days in which to set a date for an election.

In an earlier meeting with chief architect Charles Proffer Monday morning signs of misunderstanding surfaced over proposals for Hancock North Central when school board member Tom Shaw asked how many persons the proposed new gymnasium would seat.

Proffer said that the new gym would seat approximately 750, but board president Horace Davis said the board needed a gym that would hold "at least 2,000 or we don't need one at all."

Proffer's cost estimate of $186,000 for a new gymnasium at Hancock North Central is considerably less than an alternate proposal submitted by Bay St. Louis architect Fred Wagner which totalled $338,000.

Another point of difference surfaced when board attorney Joseph Gex questioned wording of the contract submitted to the board by Proffer concerning improvements in the cafeteria system at North Central. Gex said wording of the contract implied only renovation and improvements would be made to the existing cafeteria at the school. The board stipulated that they desired a new cafeteria for the school.

Asked if this wouldn't make a difference in the cost estimate submitted for North Central, Proffer stated that it would if the board decided on a new building rather than improvements on the existing structure but that his firm would like to be able to present both proposals to the board.

The contract submitted the board by Proffer stipulates that should the bond issue fail to pass, a flat 15 percent of the firm's anticipated fee would be due to cover schematic designs.

LB board sets salaries

The Long Beach School Board voted to accept the formula for principals' salaries proposed by school superintendent T. L. Reeves at the board's regular meeting Tuesday night.

The high school principal would earn 1.33 times more than the base teacher salary for an 11 month period. The junior high principal would receive 1.15 times the base teacher salary and the elementary school principal would receive 1.10 times the base teacher salary.

In other business, the board heard a proposal for a food services contract by ARA Food Services Inc. No action was taken by the board on the proposal. The board will hear another proposal to handle the school district's food program by Mississippi Valley Food Services Inc. at the continuation of the board's regular Thursday night.

City school administrators are lowest paid on Coast

Bay-Waveland public school administrators are at the bottom of the pay scale compared to all other coast school systems, it was revealed at a school board meeting Monday night.

School superintendent J. D. McCullough presented the board a survey of coast school systems, showing total student enrollment and salaries of elementary, junior high and senior high school principals at schools the length of the Gulf Coast, as far as Pascagoula and Moss Point.

In all cases Bay principals were lowest paid except in two levels where they ranked third from bottom of the list. Bay-Waveland teachers are lower paid as well, McCullough stated, which accounts for some dissatisfaction on the part of faculty members.

Trustees considered a recommendation from the superintendent for the following pay scale for administrators, reflecting a six percent raise over present salaries:

Asst. superintendent, $15,000 for 12

mos.; senior high principal, $13,000 for 12 mos.; asst. high principal and transportation supt., $11,500 for 12 mos.; junior high principal, $12,000 for 12 mos.; N. Bay Ele. principal, $11,000 for 11 mos.; Wave. Ele. principal, $10,000 for 10 mos.

A unanimous motion was passed to accept the new pay scale for administrators.

The board also reviewed applications of several teachers which McCullough recommended hiring for the coming year but on the insistence of trustee Emile Hazeur that the board also review other applicants for the positions, the matter was held in abeyance until the coming Monday night meeting.

Trustees heard a proposal for an Effective Listening course which purports to improve the listening capabilities of a student from 25 to 80 percent. The taped program is now in use by 1,500 business firms and schools and has proven to be particularly effective, assistant superintendent Donald Caldwell told the board. Cost of the program includes $36 for a kit and $6 per child for the six weeks course.

Estimated overall cost of implementing the program in one class at the junior high level would be about $900, Caldwell said. The matter was taken under consideration for further study.

McCullough asked for two board members to serve on the school's dress code committee for review and possible changes for the 1974-75 session. Trustees Robert Hamilton and Mrs. Joseph Gex agreed to serve with faculty advisors Burt Barrett and Valda Pitcairn and student council officers.

All service vehicles owned by the school system will henceforth be housed at the Junior High yard when not in use, board president William Breland stated. In past years school principals were asked to take the vehicles home after school hours in an attempt to prevent excessive thefts of gasoline and parts. The recent acquisition of a high wire fence and a full time watchman has cut back the incidents of theft he stated, making it possible to keep all the equipment at the yard.

By prior request of the board, McCullough submitted a list of all faculty members showing their academic credits and ratings, years of experience and major subjects.

A strong endorsement by three members of the board to consider changing to a certified public accounting firm for an annual audit of the school's books was considered. Breland read recommendations from Bay and Waveland city officials and the president of the Biloxi school board in favor of Moore and Powell Auditors, based in Bay St. Louis. Breland's contention that the firm should be considered was supported by Mrs. Gex who stated that she had asked each year since she had been on the board for "a good CPA to do the books".

"Last time I was told we couldn't afford it but I feel that we should let something else go as this is a more important matter," Mrs. Gex said. Robert Hamilton recalled that Moore and Powell had submitted a $9,000 estimate last year for an annual audit plus a quarterly report. Breland requested that McCullough arrange for representatives of the firm to attend the next regular meeting of the board for another proposal.

The board will meet Monday night to answer questions concerning school affairs presented by a concerned citizens group at a prior meeting.

Carver orders contractor to stop work on home

A work stop order against Ren-Rod Inc., a Gautier, Miss. steel siding contractor, was issued early Wednesday morning by Bay St. Louis Mayor Warren Carver after Carver said the firm had violated two local ordinances in performing work on the home of Willie Dee Dunklin, 504 State St. in Bay St. Louis.

Carver, who said that the firm was obviously taking advantage of some of the senior citizens and black populace of the city, said that he had city attorney Joseph Gex Jr. checking into ways that the city could run the firm out of town.

Dunklin, 56, who signed a contract with the firm April 4 to have siding installed on his home, was only one of several persons Carver said, who have become what he called "victims" of the firm within the past few weeks.

The firm, he said had misrepresented actual costs of the construction in its application for a building permit with the city, and had failed to register with the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce—a prerequisite, he said, for any peddlers or transient merchants.

Mrs. Catherine Wimbish, executive director of Bay St. Louis Housing Authority, said Wednesday that she had brought the firm to the attention of the city council over a week ago and had asked city building inspector B. D. Johnson not to issue building permits to the firm.

Mrs. Wimbish said that she became suspicious of the firm after a salesman called at her home at 321 Ballentine St. and tried to interest her in having the siding installed on her own home. The salesman, she said, had tried to leave her with the impression that work done by the firm was federally approved and insured.

Mrs. Wimbish said that she had reports that the firm had gotten into difficulty with the cities of Long Beach and Piquayune, Miss. also.

Dunklin, who lives with his wife and three children at the State Street address, said he had a monthly income of $340 from a railroad disability pension and from Social Security payments to himself and family.

Dunklin's contract with Ren-Rod, Inc. lists cash price of the siding improvements at $3,300. The deferred payment price of $5,840 includes 18 percent interest per annum and is payable in 84 monthly installments of $69.53.

Dunklin said that the salesman who called on him told him that the firm would also pay off a SBA loan of $350 still owed by he and his wife and promised to pay approximately $50 in property taxes that he owed the city for 1974.

Streaker challenges dress code

Bay High school had its first streaker Wednesday afternoon throwing the school into pandemonium. According to eye witnesses, the male streaker took advantage of all faculty and administrators being in a meeting about 2:30 p.m. leaving students in classrooms unattended. He dashed out of a men's room, unclothed, streaked the length of a hall and dashed back into the wash room.

An unofficial report stated that the suspected streaker was suspended for two weeks.

Green Rd. problem is settled at county board hearing

A country road that has been under dispute by neighboring property owners for more than 15 years precipitated a battle between county supervisors Monday before the matter was finally resolved in a hearing. Major points in the controversy, brought to the board in the 2 p.m. hearing conducted by attorney Cornelius Ladner were upkeep of the road by the beat supervisor and use of the road by neighboring property owners.

A crowd of 20 Lakeshore residents lined the board room as attorney Ladner, representing a portion of property owners, complained that other property owners had prevented needed maintenance on the road. According to two witnesses presented by Ladner, dispute over the 75-year-old road had waged for more than 15 years and through at least "four boards of supervisors", all of whom in the past, witnesses alleged, had maintained the road, regardless of personal property owners' contentions. Beat one supervisor Jerry Ladner has failed to do so, they contended, and the road is in a bad state of repair.

The actual point of controversy appeared to center around which of two roads was to be considered public and therefore maintained by the county. The original Green Rd. was diverted when Noah Garcia bought the section of property across which the road runs. Garcia petitioned a former board of supervisors to close the road for public access, giving instead footage for a right of way at his property line for another road to originate at Lower Bay Rd. and intersect Green Rd. several hundred feet further up on the eastern side of his property line.

The petition was granted and Garcia closed Green Rd. within his property.

Adjoining property owners, mostly members of the LaFontaine and Green families, protested the action, pressing for the old road to be reopened and, apparently, wanting both roads maintained.

Supervisor Ladner insisted that he had attempted to work on the road but had been stopped by a property owner "at gun point". He would not return he said until the matter was settled by the whole board.

The altercation between Ladner and board president A. A. "Dolph" Keller resulted when Keller stated that this was not a board matter, and should have been kept within the beat.

The two supervisors began to exchange insults and the matter of the road was diverted for about 30 minutes when Ladner said, "This is typical Keller politics" and Keller shot back, "I don't know what this man has in mind, if he has a mind!"

Attorney Robert Genin, sitting in for board attorney Sam Favre, finally

Bay teachers to walk out

Teachers of the Bay-Waveland Municipal School District voted overwhelmingly to honor the spontaneous independent protest in a walkout from school today.

"This is not to be construed as dissatisfaction with the school system or the local administration," said Burt Barrett of the Bay St. Louis Teachers' Association, "but it is an expression of our extreme displeasure over the state legislature's failure to give any support to public education."

resolved the road dispute by suggesting that residents accept the newer road as the official public road, and that supervisor Ladner maintain it if Garcia would concede an additional four feet as a right of way for widening the road. Everyone fell into line and accepted the suggestion except Mrs. LaFontaine who threatened a court injunction if the supervisor or anyone else attempted to enter the section of the road which runs across the back of her property.

Library Memorial gift

Something besides art seems to have captured the attention of these young people at the moment an Echo photographer caught them. They were attending the presentation of the first painting to be given to the Gretchen Jones Memorial Collection for the Children's room of the Pass Christian Library. The painting, a gift of Mrs. Elizabeth Drury, was done by the prominent New-Orleans artist, Mrs. Malane Collins. From left are Liz Ellis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Ellis; Shelley Stewart, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. W. K. Stewart; Charlotte Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. Randall Jones Jr.; Carter Stewart and Scott Stewart.

Ladner to host solons

State Representative Earl E. "Buck" Ladner will host a group of 50 or more state legislators in Hancock county the weekend of April 19, 20 and 21.

Rep. Ladner told the county supervisors at a Monday meeting that he had invited all of his colleagues in the House as well as Lt. Governor William Winter to come to Hancock county for a three-day tour of sites of interest which will include Diamondhead, Bay St. Louis, Waveland and the Port and Harbor facility.

The solons will also be entertained at breakfasts, lunches and dinners, hosted by various business concerns and merchants in the county. Boat trips up the Jourdan River and around the Bay of St. Louis will be included on the three-day itinerary.

Ladner, who sponsored a similar end-of-the-legislative session jaunt last year, said the purpose of the weekend was not to just "party" but to afford the legislators the opportunity to be better acquainted with the attractions as well as the problems of the county.

All cities and county officials are invited to join in the weekend activities, Ladner said.

Recognition award

Mississippi Agriculture Commissioner Jim "Buck" Ross was presented an award Tuesday by the Pass Christian Chamber of Commerce in recognition of his help in providing trees to replace those lost in Hurricane Camille. From left are Ross, Pass alderman Jerry Anderson, Dayton Robinson and Lee Spence, both past Chamber presidents.

Donations requested for rescue unit

A rescue unit—to be called the Long Beach Air and Marine Rescue Unit—is being started in Long Beach, announced chief of police Harry Kaletsch Wednesday.

"If we get enough donations, we will purchase a 26-foot boat with rescue equipment," Kaletsch said, "the unit will work from the Long Beach Small Craft Harbor and be ready to move in minutes after an emergency" is reported. The boat will be manned by police and firemen."

Kaletsch said that there will also be a ten-boat flotilla serving as volunteer members of the unit.

Boats over 22-feet-long and five planes have already volunteered their services when needed, Kaletsch said. The slogan for the unit will be: "Bring Men Home Safe." The slogan represents the first letter of the last name of each of the four youths who recently perished in a boating accident: Michael Brown, John Maxwell, Gary Hagin, and Jeffery Steagall.

Anyone wishing to make a donation to the unit should contact Long Beach chief of police Harry Kaletsch.

Juvenile arrested for bomb threat

A 14-year-old boy was arrested Tuesday in connection with a bomb threat made Tuesday morning at Long Beach Junior High School.

The arrest was made after investigation by Capt. Ken Pell of the Long Beach police department, Maj. Jerry Cooper of the Harrison county sheriff's office and Bill Norris of South Central Bell.

The youth was booked at Harrison County Youth Court for making threatening phone calls.

This was the eighth bomb threat to occur in Long Beach in the last two weeks. A bomb threat was received at the high school last Wednesday afternoon and another was made Friday, also at the high school. With the exception of one threat phoned in to the National food store, all the calls were made to the junior and senior high schools. No explosive devices were found in searches made following the threats.

Long Beach to get grant

Senator John C. Stennis announced reimbursement grants to an additional 33 Mississippi cities, totaling $357,600 for construction of sewage treatment facilities.

The city of Long Beach will receive $42,500 from the grant program. The reimbursement grants were made by the Environmental Protection Agency under Section 206 of Public Law 92-500, the Federal Water Pollution Control Act Amendment of 1972.

In making the announcement Senator Stennis stressed that these funds "in essence pay back communities for sewage treatment work they did in the period of 1966 through 1972."

As a ranking member of the Senate Appropriations Agriculture, Environmental and Consumer Protection Subcommittee Stennis pointed out that this money is made available "with absolutely no strings attached."

"Cities affected should be receiving checks from the Environmental Protection Agency very shortly," Stennis said.

CIVIL WAR WIDOWS
As 1974 began, the Veterans Administration had 511 Civil War widows and helpless children on its death compensation and death pension rolls.

Drugs and your health

by John F. Russell, M.D.

Garbage! Garbage is left-overs, empty cans, peelings, and junk. Garbage is what you have to put out for the sanitation department to pick up. Garbage brings rats, disease, and other unpleasantnesses if not disposed properly. Garbage is what is killing kids using drugs faster than the drugs are killing them.

Pills, capsules, and powders all have "fillers" in them to make enough bulk for packaging. In many cases only a minute portion of the actual drug is necessary, so it must be mixed with other ingredients to fill a capsule or be pressed into a tablet. This filler is usually a milk powder, talc, or other harmless substance. That is... in pharmaceutical laboratories or workshops where illicit drugs are made, it is an entirely different story. There are no "Gold Medal Seals of Approval," no tests for purity, no FDA standards to meet. The self-styled "chemist" has free reign to do his own thing. He mixes his own with no one to tell him nay. His object is not to "turn on" a friend, but rather, to make "bread" (money). This is a lucrative business made more lucrative by the number of times that the drug is cut. It has reached the point where even the "legal" prescription drugs are being cut and mixed with other fillers—to double the quantity to be sold.

What are these fillers? That depends, in many cases, upon the drug, the dealer, and the desired effect. But, in practically every case, the filler is "garbage." Let's talk about acid (LSD), for example. One cup of pure Lysergic acid diethylamide has close to seven million doses. . . . or, put another way: if one were able to chop a grain of salt into one hundred pieces, one of those particles would be a hit (dose) of acid. Obviously, that quantity is too small to market and must be mixed with something. In the days of flower children, love and peace, sugar cubes and milk powder were used, but no longer. Today's drug abuser is of a more serious breed. He wants his drug in drug form... a capsule or tablet... and that must be mixed with a larger amount of filler. Strychnine, rat poison, roach powder, and even Drano have been analyzed in drug samples. They are mixed in, not to kill the user, but rather, because poison does give a "body feel". The body reacts to the poison to fend off its toxic effects, and the drug abuser thinks he is "flying." Just as high fever can cause hallucinations, so poison creates similar sensations. But... too much will kill. Thus the garbage is more dangerous than the drug.

Back during World War II when malaria was rampant, heroin addicts passed it on to others as they passed the needle. An enterprising pusher started cutting his heroin with quinine to offset the malaria. As an added advantage, he found that he could pass off a smaller percentage of heroin that way and make more money. Today's junkie in Mississippi is doing extremely well if there is even as much as 3 percent heroin in a packet. Most bags (doses) are only 1-2 percent pure heroin and the rest is garbage.

We have treated arms swollen three times normal size where downers (sleeping pills) have been shot (injected). These reactions are not from missing the vein, but rather from shooting the garbage mixed in with it. By swallowing the mixture, at least the digestive tract has a chance to combat much of the toxic substances before they reach the blood stream. The abuser may become violently ill... vomit, have diarrhea, or severe stomach cramps, but in most cases, he will survive. By injecting garbage directly into the blood stream, the body has little or no defense and the possibility of death is far greater.

Nothing is safe anymore. Garbage is everywhere in everything. We have reached the epitome of the ridiculous when even marijuana is cut with horse manure to create a larger bulk. My advice to drug abusers... Save money! Drop Drano or take toilet paper to a cow pasture and roll your own.

Red Cross

Millions lost in tornado disaster

Several million dollars worth of animals, crops and supplies were reportedly lost in last week's vicious storms occurring in the Southern part of the United States, according to the American Red Cross.

In Tennessee alone, the first complete American Red Cross survey of the tornado disaster areas showed 21,451 dwellings, mobile homes, farm buildings and small businesses damaged or destroyed by the tornadoes. The survey also showed 3,770 persons injured, with 1,117 requiring hospitalization.

Along the tornadoes' 4,000 mile path from Alabama to the Canadian border, 19,807 families - some 70,000 persons - suffered storm losses, said Red Cross representatives. Ohio, the hardest hit, included 4,897 families suffering losses in five counties. Kentucky was next with 4,592 families in 20 counties suffering losses.

The death toll from the storms stood at 317 as of Monday afternoon. Alabama reported 81 dead, Kentucky 72, Tennessee 46, Ohio 39, Indiana 43, Georgia 16, North Carolina 5, Michigan 3, Illinois 2, Virginia 1, West Virginia 1, and Ontario, Canada 8.

Mrs. Thelma Kergosien, executive secretary of the Hancock Chapter of the American Red Cross, has stated that donations may be sent to the American Red Cross, P.O. 149, Bay St. Louis, with a notation on the check designating the monies for the Tornado Disaster Fund.

Local men to face trial for grand larceny

Two local men, arrested by Sheriff Sylvan Ladner, for possession of $750 worth of gun powder and other stolen goods, will face trial before a Hancock county grand jury in July.

Sheriff Ladner arrested William Dwight Hendricks, 39, alias Dwight McIntyre, and Christopher Sutterfield, 20, March 27 in connection with the reported theft of three new pirogues from Hancock Industries, a Kila-based manufacturing plant. Peter deMarsh, operator of the plant, had previously reported the theft of the pirogues as well as an electric calculator and a micrometer.

Although deMarsh had not reported any gun powder missing from the plant, which reportedly makes bullets and other explosives devices, authorities recovered some 21 pounds of the highly explosive powder and a roll of primer cord which Sutterfield had hidden in an abandoned house in Waveland. Acting on a search warrant, Sheriff Ladner, assisted by Deputy Lathon Garriga and Highway Patrol special investigator Travis Lott, confiscated a wide band radio, an electric drill, a micrometer and an electric sander from Hendricks' trailer in Shoreline Park.

DeMarsh later identified the gun powder as having come from his plant. The two men were charged with burglary and grand larceny and held in the county jail under $2500 bond each. In a preliminary hearing before Justice of the Peace Roger Dale Ladner, Sutterfield was found guilty as charged and bound over to the grand jury. Hendricks, who waived a preliminary hearing, was also bound over for grand jury action.

Stolen goods

Hancock Sheriff Sylvan Ladner, right, and Deputy Lathon Garriga lineup the more than $750 worth of stolen articles, including about 21 pounds of gun powder, which they confiscated from an abandoned house in Waveland and a trailer home in Shoreline Park. William D. Hendricks and Christopher Sutterfield, both of the Bay-Waveland area, have been arrested in connection with the theft.

Lott announces for re-election

Fifth District Congressman Trent Lott has announced that he will run for another two-year term in the U.S. House of Representatives.

"I am deeply honored to be your representative in Washington," Lott said. "I sincerely ask your continued support as I use my best efforts to put the experience I have gained to work for the continued development of the Fifth District of Mississippi."

Lott, 32, was first elected to Congress in November, 1972. He succeeded former Congressman William M. Colmer, whom he had served as administrative assistant since 1968.

After he took the oath of office in the 93rd Congress, Lott was elected to the Republican Policy Committee before landing House assignments on the Judiciary Committee and the Committee on Merchant Marine and Fisheries.

The Mississippi legislator was one of two freshman members of the House tapped for membership by the Chowder and Marching Society, an informal but active organization composed primarily of Washington political figures. Only two members are added each year.

Lott is married to the former Patricia Thompson of Pascagoula. They are the parents of a son, Ghet Jr., 6, and a daughter, Tyler Elizabeth, 3.

While practicing law in Pascagoula in 1967, Lott held political figures. Only two members are added each year.

Sheriff investigating robberies

Hancock county Sheriff Sylvan Ladner is investigating the robbery of a Bay St. Louis home, reported April 3, by owners of the residence, Mr. and Mrs. John Housey.

The couple told the sheriff that they discovered the house at 114 St. Charles St. had been broken into sometime in the early pre-dawn hours. Items reported missing included a Zenith tape player, two speakers, two tape decks, a black Panasonic clock-radio as well as a second Panasonic radio, a Bowie knife, a color television set and approximately $20 in change.

Also under investigation is the discovery of a Honda 150 motorcycle, listed by New Orleans police as stolen from John Judson, New Orleans. Sheriff Ladner, Deputy Lathon Garriga and Highway Patrol Investigator Travis Lott found the motorcycle March 29 in an unoccupied house on Lakeshore Rd. during investigation of a reported breaking and entering. Louisiana authorities have been notified and investigation continues.

It's your legislature

The Mississippi Economic Council asks, "What do you want your Legislature to do in 1975?" That's right, 1975.

The Legislature meets every year now, which means that our lawmakers will be back on Capitol Hill just nine months from now.

A nine months' head start is not too long for legislation you want to promote.

Actually, now that legislators can file bills in advance of the legislative session, many proposals for the 1975 legislative session will be filed perhaps eight -- or even seven -- months from now.

Experienced lawmakers know that plenty of advance preparation makes a bill stronger. It allows time for discussion with those who can add improvements. It also gives time to spot weak points and do something about them. This -- virtually makes the lawmaking process a year-round responsibility for Mississippians.

In a form of government such as ours, the task of making and amending the laws under which we live is, fortunately, the people's business -- rather than the exclusive province of governmental officials.

It is the responsibility of each one of us, therefore, to begin thinking now about what new laws we would like to see enacted by the 1975 session of the Mississippi Legislature and how we would like to see existing laws changed.

The more active the individual citizen becomes in this regard, the more representative the American government will be. One does not have to be an elected official to think in terms of enacting legislation.

Probably in no other country in the world does the average citizen have immediate access to the lawmaking machinery as is the case here in the United States. The machinery is as close as your nearest legislator -- or the telephone -- or, as far as that goes, it's as close as the nearest pad and pencil.

So, if you want to change things, grab a pen and paper and write a law. There is no guarantee that your law will pass. But in this country, at least it's the people's business.

LET US REJOICE IN THIS GLORIOUS SEASON OF EASTERTIME!

Easter is truly a time of joy for all Christians, for it celebrates the Resurrection of our Lord and Saviour. May every blessing be yours this season!

Colling's Corner

By E.S. Colling

Way back when most of the Indians of Mississippi were officially moved to Oklahoma, a small number of them, determined not to leave their pleasant ancestral home, fled to the mysterious swamps of the Pearl River and carried on life there, safe from the white despot. Later they gradually returned to their former home where climate was close to perfect, game was abundant, and the great burial mound erected by their forebears was close at hand.

Many of them settled near the big mound at what is now Clermont Harbor, close to the interesting Claiborne plantation. At that time the whole district around the Bay of St. Louis was called "Chicapoula" by the Indians, meaning "bad grass" and referring to the rock-a-chaw grass prevalent in the soil. Later, when the first small village of Shieldsboro was established, the Indians called it "A-chou-pou-lou", and the white settlers were known along the Coast as the "Poulous". The village was incorporated in January, 1858, with P.C. Monet as mayor and John P. Toulne as secretary.

The little town was officially named St. Louis in March, 1875, and at the time Monet was mayor and N. Monet was secretary.

new name somebody wrote a "Pome" to extol the salubrity of the area -- not a very good poem, we're afraid, but one which breathes of sincerity and gratitude to Nature. Here is part of it:

"If you ask me where the fairest
And sweetest dreams of bliss to woo,
Ah, friend, in accents soft and tender
Faint echo cries: 'A-chou-pou-lou'.
"No strife to stir the heart to hatred,
No clamor fierce to chase your dreams;
There's nothing but repose and calmness,
That to the mind celestial seems.

"Yes, if you're tempest-tossed and weary,
And fain would find a haven true,
Ah, friend, delay not any longer,
But come to fair 'A-chou-pou-lou'."

Perhaps that was the world's first real estate development -- blurb. However, perhaps because of the poem (or in spite of it) families came in increasing numbers to the pleasant little community, and it soon became the leading summer resort on the coast. Meantime, the Indians gradually withdrew to the piney woods and today almost nothing is left, except the mound, of their life and culture.

"... and when you go through Mississippi, watch what you eat!"

Washington Report

By: Rep. Trent Lott

OUR FUTURE FIRST
Suffering humiliation at the hands of international oil hijackers earlier this year was like accepting a strong-armed invitation to participate in a "heads I win, tails you lose" coin flip.

If you agree to play, you'll come out a loser every time.

And in the case of the oil heist, we lost more than a mere coin flip. Simply put, we lost enough oil to turn a "problem" into a "crisis."

It is, of course, too late to change what happened with the foreign oil barons, but we CAN do something to see that similar tactics aren't used against us when we run out of other natural essentials -- like aluminum, chromium or a host of other precious materials currently in short supply in the United States.

For starters, Congress can adopt a bill I am co-sponsoring that will amend the Foreign Assistance Act of 1961 to allow the United States to exchange or barter its foreign aid for the minerals and other critical raw materials this country will need in the very near future.

Introduced on the floor of the House earlier this week by Congressman Clarence Miller of Ohio, the bill is simply an effort to prevent blind continuation of our present "we give, they get" program of foreign aid. Those of us who co-sponsored the bill think it is high time we consider America's future first.

It should come as no surprise to learn that foreign nations have raked in U.S. foreign aid to the tune of $253 BILLION in the last 26 years. Many of those nations then turned right around and stuck a knife to our throat.

Take Ecuador, for example. After stuffing their pockets with $173.2 million in U.S. grants between 1946 and 1972, they chose to repay us by seizing American fishing boats that came within 200 miles of Ecuador's coast -- although anything past 12 miles is considered international waters.

And then we have our friends in Chile, bless their hearts. They haven't taken but 1,652 million over a 25-year period and we all know often they have expressed their deep appreciation.

The list is endless, but the point is this: all of those countries have something we will eventually need.

So, in the future, instead of kissing our tax dollars goodbye when we dole out foreign aid, why not arrange for repayment not in dollars but in the minerals and other raw materials found in those countries?

Brazil, for example, a major recipient of U.S. aid over the years, is blessed with an abundance of mineral deposits, many of which this country will desperately need in the future.

Venezuela has some of the world's largest reserves of natural oil and gas. Malaysia is rich in natural deposits of tin and titanium. Turkey has vast reserves of chromite, boron, pyrite, copper and manganese.

It all takes on even more significance when you note that, because the current U.S. demand for many minerals is fast outstripping supply, we are already importing 93 percent of our manganese needs, 92 percent of our cobalt needs, 81 percent of aluminum, 75 percent of our tin, etc.

For those who figure that placing U.S. aid on an exchange basis would amount to exploitation of undeveloped nations, I would point to the unchallenged fact that the United States, too, has been exploited over the years. We have poured our sweat and blood -- and our tax dollars -- into virtually every nation on this globe.

And what can we show for all that concern today?
I rest my case.

PHYTOPHTHORA ROOT-ROT
Phytophthora root-rot, a plant disease caused by a soil borne fungus has caused some yield reductions and other losses to Mississippi soybeans. It is generally more destructive on poorly drained, heavier textured soils.

The disease can occur at any stage of plant growth. Seeds may rot in infested fields before they germinate. A preemergence or postemergence damping off might occur. On older plants the first symptom is a wilting of the leaves. A brown canker develops on the stem near the soil line and may advance as far up as the node of the second or third trifoliate leaf. This canker is a clearcut symptom of the disease.

The most practical method of controlling the disease is to plant resistant varieties. Resistant varieties include Davis, Semmes, Lee 68, Hardee, Pickett 71 and Mack. Tolerant varieties are Hill, Dare, Bragg, Lee and Forrest. Susceptible varieties include Hampton, Pickett, Ransom and Hood.

Under favorable conditions for the development of root rot, resistant varieties should suffer no yield losses; tolerant varieties will suffer more losses but not a total loss. The susceptible varieties under the same conditions may suffer a total loss.

Remember! National Library Week is coming soon. Get behind your library and find out what you can do to show appreciation for this fine service to your communities.

Special treats for children at Arts Festival

Children love the Mississippi Arts Festival. And, obviously, the Festival loves children, offering them a variety of events and activities designed for education and entertainment.

When the 1974 Mississippi Arts Festival comes to the State Fairgrounds in Jackson, it will be chock full of activities for the young. The Festival will be held April 30 through May 5.

One of the new features of the Festival will be a Youth Pavilion, created for those children between the ages for Coffeehouse and Children's Pavilion.

Called "Nitty Gritty City," the Youth Pavilion will offer a crafts fair, gasoline alley where many famous racing cars may be seen all hours, The Pits, with race films being shown, Olympic Coliseum with exhibitions by the YMCA Gymnastics Team; and the Natural Wonder Place, presented by the Mac-ettes which will show teen-age girls how to apply make-up and stick to a program of skin and nail care. Another special event of Nitty Gritty City will be motorcycle row and a sports spectacular entitled NGC Sports Hall of Fame.

For children who want to watch a live play, there will be daily showings of excellent children's plays which are open to the public during Festival week. Presentations will be made by St. Andrews Episcopal Day School, "The Twelve Months," Mississippi Gulf Coast Junior College, "Hansel and Gretel," Mississippi College, "Mother Goose," Jackson Academy Junior High, "Snow White and Rose Red," and Mississippi State College for Women, "Brer Rabbit."

A special presentation of "It's Cool in the Furnace" will be presented during Festival week. The play is a very bright, fast-paced version of the Old Testament story of Daniel and his three friends: Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego. It is an example of the present-day trend in religious music - it has a message, it has impact, and it's fun.

In the Children's Pavilion this year at the Arts Festival, knocking on the door of make-believe is the beginning of an exciting adventure. There will be Winnie the Pooh, the Old Lady Who Lived in a Shoe, the world of Captain Hook, and Old MacDonald and his farm will be on the scene too. The Children's Pavilion each year is a success with the youngsters who want adventure and challenge as they wander through the giant fairgrounds arena.

In addition to these activities designed for the young, there will be special Youth Concerts held during the Festival. On Saturday, the Youth Concert will feature the ever-popular Sesame Street cast joined with the Jackson Symphony Orchestra, at 11 a.m. and again at 2 p.m. For ticket holders, the performances will be free; otherwise, the gate fee of 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for children will stand. Plus, there will be storytelling hours and bandstand performances on the midway. And, the return of the durable Coffeehouse, which will this year be located in the Tent, providing a gay atmosphere to the nightly entertainment.

There will also be an exhibit of Children's Art, which draws much attention and interest from throughout the state. All schools, public and private, were asked to participate this year in the Children's Art and High School Art Exhibits.

This year's Festival will feature many other activities for the youngster. School children who want to come to the festival by bus from surrounding towns, should contact the School Coordination Committee at 1720

Willhurst Street in Jackson, Miss., 39211.

Headlining the Arts Festival April 30 through May 5 will be Mississippi's own Charley Pride, Doc Severinsen, opera star Dorothy Kirsten, mime artist Keith Berger and ballet team Patricia McBride and Jean-Pierre Bonnefous.

Science enrichment program open at Mississippi College

Bay St. Louis students interested in attending the second annual Student Science Training Program scheduled at Mississippi College in Clinton June 16 through July 27 are invited to make application at once according to Dr. Wendell Deer, head of the Department of Mathematics and coordinator for the program. Application deadline is May 1.

According to Dr. Deer, the SSTP is an enrichment program designed to bring together a select group of 30 high ability students of mathematics and biology in the secondary school. The six-week program is designed to make use of mathematical modeling to study changing gene frequencies in human populations.

The program is especially designed for students who have completed the junior year of high school, but sophomores and seniors will also be considered. Students applying should have at least one unit of biology, two units of mathematics, and one unit of chemistry is also recommended.

Field trips, along with planned afternoon and evening recreation and special week-end outings, are also on the schedule.

The only cost for the selected participants will be $175 for room, board and health insurance. Tuition and laboratory materials will be supplied by Mississippi College free of charge. Computer time will also be supplied by the college.

Students desiring to make application should contact Dr. Wendell Deer, Department of Mathematics, Mississippi College, Clinton, MS 39058.

Military mention

KEVIN HATHCOCK

FT. HOOD, TEX. - Army Private Kevin Hathcock, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Hathcock, 200 Tuney Road, Picayune, Miss., is assigned to the 13th support brigade, Ft. Hood, Tex.

He is a wireman in company D of the Brigade's 16th signal battalion.

DARRYL BOURGEOIS

CAMP LEJEUNE, N. C. - Marine Sgt. Darryl J.

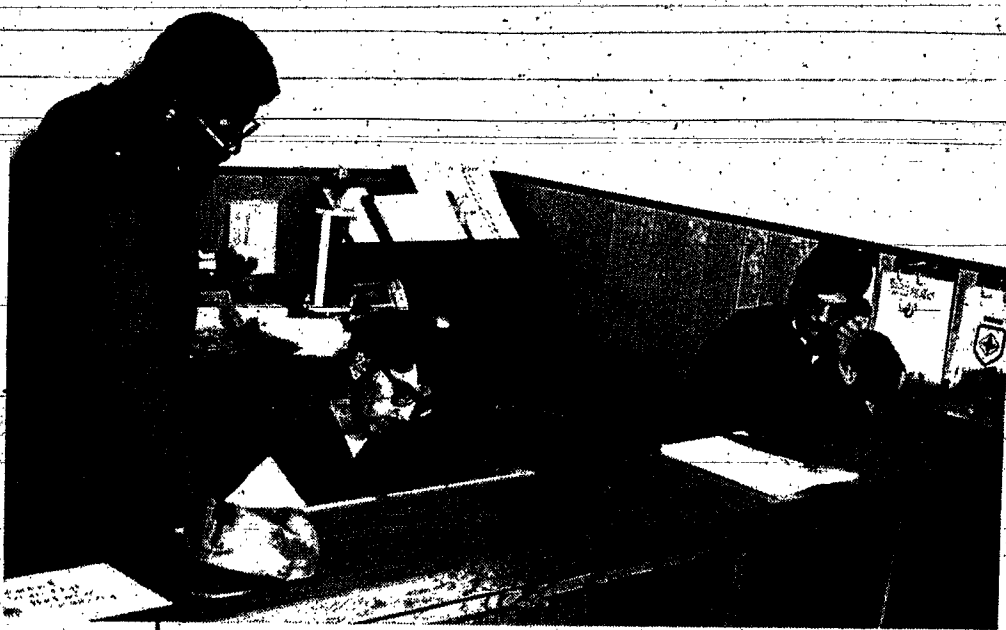

Bourgeois of 270 Tippen St., Waveland, Miss., returned to the Marine Corps Base here after a six-week training deployment to the Caribbean. He participated in infantry exercises at Guantanamo Bay, Cuba, and an amphibious landing on Vieques Island, P. R. Four-day liberty stops were made at St. Thomas in the Virgin Islands and San Juan, P. R.

OLEN L. HARGETT

REDSTONE ARSENAL, ALA. - Army Private Olen L. Hargett, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harm Hargett, 618 Jarrell St., Picayune, Miss., is attending the light air defense system electronic repair course at the U. S. Army Missile and munitions center and school, Redstone Arsenal, Ala.

During the 25-week course, he will learn the required maintenance of the light air defense missile system and associated test equipment. He also will receive instruction in the characteristics, operating principles, functions, troubleshooting techniques, maintenance procedures and inspections of equipment in the system.

Pvt. Hargett is receiving his training under the Army's unit of choice program and is scheduled to be assigned to Ft. Hood, Tex.

Medic training

Lt. Nash conducts Army OJT program

A Bay St. Louis man is coordinating a unique on-the-job training program for U.S. Army medics at a base in Colorado Springs, Colo.

2nd Lt. Andrew Nash, U.S. Army, is supervising the OJT program at Troop Medical Clinic 7, DivArty Dispensary, giving medics extra training in several areas.

Under the program, two medics from each of the subordinate battalions of the Bulldogs Brigade work and train at the dispensary for a 30-day period.

At the end of this cycle six other men rotate into the program, enabling all the medical personnel in the unit to receive this training.

The OJT training includes admissions and disposition of cases, medical records filing, treatment procedures and limited experience in the pharmacy and laboratory. The dispensary OJT enables trained medics to get further experience and training that is not available at the battalion aid stations.

A greater level of expertise to medical personnel in line units is seen as the end result of the program.

Lt. Nash is the son of Mrs. Louise Nash, 414 Washington St.

MEETING POSTPONED
The regular monthly meeting of the Jourdan River Anti-Pollution and Improvement Association will be postponed until April 20, according to association secretary Edith Ryder.

CORRECTION
The Echo incorrectly stated last week that the county school board adopted plans for a new high school building in Pearlinton as part of a $1.5 million proposal submitted by the firm of Proffer, Teague and Ashton architects, Gulfport. The story should have read for construction of a new high school at Lakeshore.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our everlasting thanks and gratitude to all of you who have been so kind to us
during the illness and death of our loved one, Earl Ramond.
We give special thanks to Dr. Sidney Chevis for his tireless, dedicated care, to Mrs. Dodson, Levens, Wolfe, and Martinolich, and all other doctors who shared their wisdom and concern for him, to Fathers Johnson and Tracey, to Rev. Joe Davis, to the entire nursing staff of Hancock General, and to the hosts of relatives and friends who have sustained us with their prayers, visits, floral and food offerings, contributions to various favorite charities in his memory, and cards
and letters of sympathy.
Christian friends like you are wonderful. We thank God for you and ask his blessings on each of you.

EUGENIA, AND PER-DINAND

IN MEMORIAM

In Memory of
Herbert Tartavouille
On his Birthday
April 12, 1974
Should you go first and I
remain,
to walk the road alone,
I'll live in memories garden,
dear,
with happy days we've known.
In spring I'll wait for roses red, when faded, the lilac blue.
Should you go first and I
remain,
One thing I'll have you do:
Walk slowly down that long long path, for soon I'll follow
you.
I want to know each step you take,
so I may take the same.
For some day down that lonely road,
you'll hear me call your name.
SADLY MISSED BY WIFE AND SON

INVITATION
FOR BIDS
The Bay St. Louis Housing Authority will receive bids for installing New Parking Areas at the Ballentine Street
Project and the Washington Street Project, Bay St. Louis, Mississippi, until 3:00 P.M. (Daylight Saving Time), on the 18th day of April, 1974 at 601 Bienville Street, Bay St. Louis, Mississippi, 39201, at which time and place all bids will be publicly opened and read aloud.
The bid shall be for new "off-street" parking facilities, consisting of approximately 2000 square yards of paving and 400 linear feet of new concrete curbing.
Proposed forms of contract documents, including plans and specifications, are on file at the office of the Bay St. Louis Housing Authority,
601 Bienville Street, Bay St. Louis,
Mississippi, and at the office of Clarence
A. Evans and Associates, Room 201,
City Hall Building, Coleman Avenue,
Waveland, Mississippi.
Copies of the documents may be obtained by depositing $15.00 with Housing Authority for each set of documents.
Such deposit will be refunded to each person who returns the plans, specifications, and other documents in good condition within 10 days after bid opening.
A certified check or bank draft payable to the Bay St. Louis Housing Authority in U.S. Government bonds or a satisfactory bid bond executed by the bidder and acceptable sureties in an amount equal to five percent of the bid shall be submitted with each bid.
The successful bidder will be required to furnish and pay for satisfactory performance and payment bond or bonds.
Attention is called to the provisions for equal employment opportunity, and payment of not less than the minimum salaries and wages as set forth in the Specifications must be paid on this project.
No bid shall be withdrawn for a period of 60 days subsequent to the opening of bids without the consent of the Bay St. Louis Housing Authority.

NOTICE OF PROPOSED FEDERAL AID SECONDARY PROJECT

NO. RS-4104 (7) B
(FENTON ROAD)
HANCOCK COUNTY
The Hancock County Board of Supervisors proposes to improve section of the Fenton Road in Hancock County, which is on Federal-Aid Secondary Route No. 104. This proposed construction project consists of 6.1
miles of Grading, Drainage, Box
Bridges (2), Base Course and Blutonium Surfacing and will be administered as a Federal Secondary Project under the State Aid Road Program.
The proposed project begins at Jct.
with Miss. Hwy. 603, at Ktn in Sec. 30, T9S, R14W, and extends easterly through Fenton and across Bayou La Terre and Rotten Bayou to EOP of the Hancock-Harrison County Line on E.
Line of Sec. 24, T9S, R14W.
All interested persons are hereby advised that an approved "Negative Declaration Relative to Environmental Impact" is on file and available at the offices of the State Aid Engineer in the United Gas Building, 151 East Griffith
Street, P.O. Box 1850, Jackson, Mississippi.
A "Location and Design Report" has been prepared by the County Engineer,
Mr. Lawrence L. Seal of Picayune, Mississippi, and a copy of same submitted to the State Aid Engineer for his review. At a later date, a Notice will be published in this newspaper setting out the action taken as a result of his review.
All interested persons desiring a public hearing on the location and design of the project must write to the Hancock County Board of Supervisors, c/o the Chancery Clerk at his office in the County Courthouse in Bay
St. Louis, Mississippi, and to the State Aid Engineer at his office previously listed on or before May 2, 1974, setting forth the reasons for desiring such a hearing.
In the event a request for a public hearing is received, a further Notice will be published specifying the date, time, and place of the hearing.

Christ Episcopal to present dramatic reading Friday night

The public is cordially invited to attend a chancel drama Friday night, 7:30 p.m. at Christ Episcopal Church on South Beach in Bay St. Louis.

The dramatic reading, presented by members of the congregation, is based on character interpretations during the crucifixion and is an intensely moving dramatization.

"Were You There?" was written by Harold Lyle and was presented at this time last year at Christ Episcopal. A cast of eight readers portrays the various witnesses to the crucifixion as they are called before the Court of Universal Conscience. Simon Peter, Mary Magdalene, Pontius Pilate, Judas Iscariot, Flavius the centurion and John are called before the Court each to explain his part in the crucifixion of Jesus.

Taking part in the dramatization are Emily Rausch, Emily deMontuzin, Nanette Stroth, Frances Crawley, Douglas Koger, Paul Montjoy, Davis Williams and Charles Lyle. The drama is under the direction of Burt Barrett, Ogden Lafaye is organist and Bunk Gardner and Frances Lucas are soloists. The Christ Episcopal Youth Choir will also participate in the presentation.

SSC Brother receives doctoral degree

Brother Celestine Algero, S. C., faculty member at St. Stanislaus High School in Bay St. Louis, has completed doctoral studies in the Psychology of Reading. The Doctor of Educator degree will be awarded in January, 1975, by Temple University in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. The doctoral program qualifies him as a specialist in the field of reading on all levels.

The title of Bro. Celestine's dissertation was: "An Analysis of Open-mindedness and Closed-mindedness and the Comprehension of Racially-Oriented Materials."

The dissertation was successfully defended before a committee of the Graduate faculty at Temple University on April 3.

Bro. Celestine, the son of Mrs. Lucille Algero and the late Mr. Arthur Algero of Farmington, Michigan, earned a Bachelor's degree from Spring Hill College in 1958, and was awarded the Master of Education degree by Loyola University in New Orleans in 1962. He has been a member of the faculty of St. Stanislaus for 18 years, and he taught for two years at Cor Jesu High School in New Orleans.

Mormon President gives Easter message

President Spencer W. Kimball of The Church of Jesus Christ of Latterday Saints (Mormon) will mark his first Easter as world leader of the church by delivering a special Easter message to the world from Temple Square in Salt Lake City, Utah.

President Kimball was recently sustained by Mormons locally and throughout the world as the highest spiritual authority in the church. In his Easter message, President Kimball will reaffirm the Mormon belief in Jesus Christ as the Savior and Redeemer of mankind. Excerpts of this message were recently received by local church leaders, and read as follows: "When He spoke the word 'Mary' on that first Easter morning, a weeping Mary Magdalene beside the empty tomb knew the reality of the resurrection of her Lord.

"To each of us, the resurrection is a personal blessing. Through Jesus Christ every individual now living, every descendant of Adam and Eve who has lived and will ever live upon this good earth, both the just and the unjust, will be resurrected, as was our Savior.

"Jesus Christ opened the way to an even greater blessing—eternal life—for those who keep the commandments of God. Eternal life means living in the presence of God throughout eternity and is the reward the faithful receive for living his commandments.

"I give my humble but solemn witness to you that these gifts and promises have truly been given by the Lord."

Christ Episcopal to host FAITH ALIVE!

An exciting new movement called FAITH ALIVE! is taking hold in the Episcopal Church. Basically, it is a mission or weekend conference in a particular parish where a number of lay people from all walks of life (mostly but not entirely other Episcopalians), come from far and near at their own expense, to share in the mission. They live in the homes of the local congregation for the weekend. Beginning with a parish dinner Friday evening and ending with lunch Sunday, in a series of large and small group meetings, the visitors and local church members share Jesus Christ openly. The results are a new acceptance of and concern for others, and an increased desire to grow spiritually. Immediate actions may involve physical and spiritual healing, reconciliation between youth and parents and husbands and wives, as well as new and rededicated commitments to the Christian way.

Christ Episcopal Church will hold such a weekend May 10-12. The Rev. Charles Johnson, Christ Episcopal rector has announced that Thad Hawley of Pensacola, Fla. will be the lay-visiting coordinator of the weekend while Mrs. William Frisbie of Bay St. Louis will be local general chairman responsible for advance preparations.

Approximately 30 adults and 20 youth visitors are expected to attend from out of town. According to FAITH ALIVE! national headquarters at York, Penn. more than 250 weekends were held in the first two years of the existence of this movement and 100 more are planned for the fall and early winter of the coming year.

Subscription drive

to benefit

Seminary

A subscription drive to benefit St. Augustine Seminary in Bay St. Louis will start next week in West Harrison County, according to Fr. Gerhard Vogel, SVD, rector and administrator of the seminary.

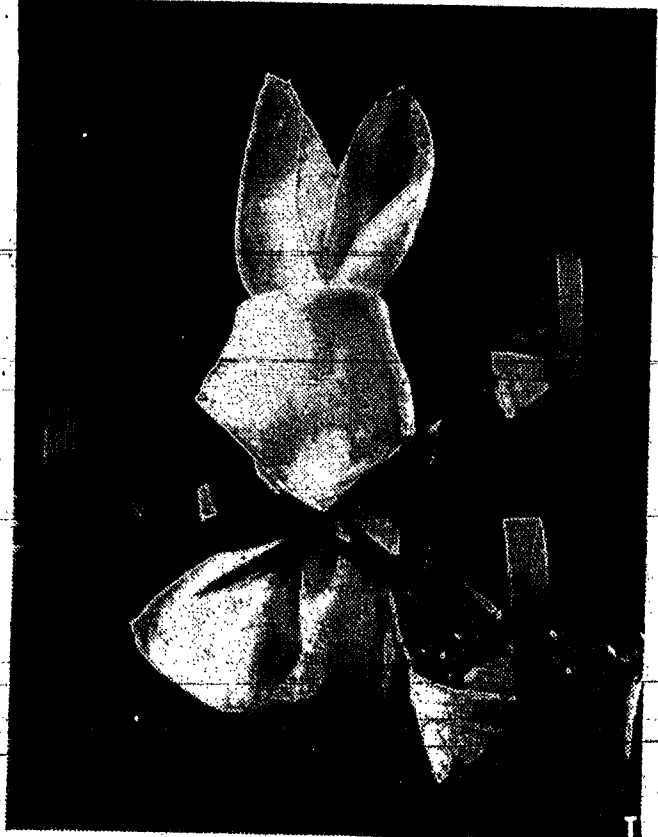

High school students from the seminary and novices, many of whom teach in Pass Christian and Long Beach, will call on residents for subscriptions to the Echo. Funds received from the drive will go toward retiring a $100,000 construction debt on the seminary gymnasium.

Built in 1967 at a cost of $150,000, the gymnasium was intended as a gift from a nationally known benefactor whose sudden death left the seminary with the responsibility for the entire debt.

Seminarians participating in the drive will bear identification as to their affiliation with the Seminary.

FUNNY BUNNY SAYS "EARS TO YOU"

If finding new and amusing table decorations for Easter meals keeps you hopping, here's a suggestion you might cotton to.

Luckily, you can make an entrancing Easter rabbit out of a table napkin! Put one at each place, or let it serve as a centerpiece, surrounded by Easter baskets.

To make it, spray a dinner size napkin with Niagara spray starch and press it crisp and perfectly square. Then tie up the bunny. Fold the square across to form a

CREATIVE EASTER FUN

This Easter season as you sit home to save gas, how are you going to avoid a crisis of too much energy generated by the youngsters in the family?

One thing you can do is to let them work off steam creatively—dyeing eggs, making party favors, fashioning Easter baskets.

Their handiwork may not end up looking like Fabergé's fabulous jeweled Easter eggs created for the Russian royal court, but they won't cost much either. All you need is dye, paint, ribbon, a bit of glue, a few pipe cleaners, and, most important of all, egg cartons.

Be sure when you pick up your eggs at the grocers that their cartons are made from molded paper instead of plastic. According to the Diamond International Paper Company, a leading manufacturer of molded paper egg cartons, they're much easier to cut, color, glue and mend.

The first use for these triple threat boxes comes into play when dyeing eggs. Set out the cartons to catch the dye drip, then to hold the eggs after they're colored. The absorbent molded paper will keep the surplus dye under control.

Then let the youngster's artistic imagination take over. Do they want to make a centerpiece and individual favor cups for an Easter party? Candleholders for a late supper? Easter baskets to fill for friends? Egg cartons can be the answer. Molded paper has a unique ability to accept any kind of paint for coloring or any kind of glue for joining pieces together. Because of its high absorbency it takes color evenly.

To make a centerpiece, cut out the individual egg cups from the carton's base and color them. Cut a tiny hole in the bottom of each and attach them to pipe cleaner stems. Glue on green paper leaves and you have a terrific tulip to preside over a refreshment table.

Pretty party favor baskets can be made from individual egg cups. Color a cut out cup, punch a small hole on opposite sides, push through a pipe cleaner to make a handle, folding back the ends. Fill each with green paper grass and you have a nifty nest for jelly beans or a dyed egg.

Candleholders can also be made from the egg cups. But turn your youngsters loose on the problem. Chances are, they'll come up with some little beauties that will surprise you. Even if they don't they will have had a good time and used up some of their overcharged energy. And what will it have cost? Some dye, some paint, a bit of glue, molded paper egg cartons...

Ruth Falcon is soloist with orchestra

Werner Torkanowsky will conduct the New Orleans Symphony's subscription concerts on Tuesday, April 16 at 8:30 and Wednesday, April 17 at 7:30 p.m., in the Theatre of the Performing Arts. Maestro Torkanowsky has returned to New Orleans after guest conducting appearances in France, Spain, Italy and Israel.

The April 16th and 17th program includes Stravinsky's Octet for Wind Instruments, Symphony No. 5 ("Reformation") by Felix Mendelssohn and Symphony No. 4 by Gustav Mahler. Soloist in the final movement of the Mahler Symphony will be soprano Ruth Falcon.

Miss Falcon, a native New Orleansian, made her debut March 28 with the New York City Opera as Micaela in Bizet's Carmen. She appeared in the role of Frasquita in Carmen with the New Orleans Opera in 1968. A semifinalist in the Metropolitan Opera National Auditions in 1972, Miss Falcon received degrees in Music from Loyola University and Tulane University, and has also studied in New York City with the assistance of two Martha Baird Rockefeller grants. Tickets for the April 16 and 17 New Orleans Symphony concerts are available at Werlein's Box Office, 605 Canal Street, and at the Symphony office, 333 St. Charles Avenue. Telephone reservations may be made by calling the Symphony at 524-0042.

Career Day tour

Hi schoolers tour MTF in Career Day event

More than 200 high school seniors from 13 schools along the Gulf Coast visited NASA Mississippi Test Facility Thursday in conjunction with Federal Career Day, sponsored by the Mississippi Coast Association of Federal Administrators.

NASA and several federal, state and university organizations are engaged in space and environmental investigations at the MTF.

"Career Day" is an annual event sponsored by numerous federal installations along the Gulf Coast to provide the students with insight into his chosen career field and encourage them to seek employment opportunities within the Federal Government.

Theme for this year's activity was "After College, Consider Federal Career Opportunities." Professionals in such disciplines as hydrology, agronomy, marine biology, forestry, horticulture, oceanography, law and medicine hosted the students during a day-long session to familiarize them with theoretical and practical aspects of a particular field as well as the educational and training requirements.

Jackson M. Balch, NASA director, said: "It is indeed encouraging to see the youth of today express such an interest in the work which is being undertaken by all federal agencies right here in Mississippi. The visit they made here may well be one that will affect not only their children's world but provide avenues of change for future generations."

Youth's body found on north shore of Bay

The body of Mark Apone, 21-year-old Ohio youth who jumped off the Bay bridge March 30, was discovered Sunday in a marshy area near Pine Hills Hotel on the north shore of the Bay.

Two Gulfport men who told the Harrison county sheriff's department that they were hunting in the area, notified authorities shortly after midnight Sunday that they had sighted the body.

Inclement weather prevented Civil Defense rescue workers from reaching the body until later in the day when a Mosquito Control Comm. helicopter recovered Apone's body. It was taken to Lang Funeral Home in Gulfport where a coroner's inquest ruled death by accidental drowning.

Apone had been living in Pascagoula and was employed at Ingalls Shipyard. Saturday, March 30, he and a friend, Arthur Van Reed, Jr., were driving to New Orleans when Apone asked Reed to stop the car on the Bay bridge so he could jump off and swim to shore. Reluctantly, Reed told authorities, he acquiesced and seeing Apone swimming he drove to the west end of the bridge to await his friend's arrival.

Reed notified Hancock authorities when Apone failed to appear. Rescuers dragged the bridge area for several days to no avail.

Members of Apone's family identified the body at the funeral home.

Pass Jaycees seeking new blood donors

The Pass Christian Jaycees have challenged the residents of the city to donate more blood than its 26 member organization when the American Red Cross Bloodmobile visits Long Beach.

The bloodmobile will be at the Long Beach First United Methodist Church at 204 Church St. from noon to 6 p.m. on Wednesday, April 17.

The challenge was issued by Jaycee president Leslie Ladner in hope that residents will support this month's blood drive.

"We feel that if our organization promotes this project, maybe it will help other people in the city," Ladner said.

Ladner said that the Jaycees urge other organizations in the city to join in the competition.

Carver orders . .

In addition to providing steel siding, the contract calls for Ren-Rod to supply 50 sheets of paneling for the inside of the home and to level the house where necessary. The firm also states in the contract that it will fix the roof on an addition to the house that Dunklin said he did himself.

Dunklin said he paid $450 for the house and lot almost 20 years ago.

Contacted in Gautier, the firm's vice president Richard Moore said that his firm was completely honest and was not engaged in any underhanded deals.

Moore said that the firm is a licensed corporation in the state, had been in operation for approximately three years and had done about 25 jobs in the Bay St. Louis area.

"Approximately 18 of these were in white homes," Moore said, "or about 75 percent, so I certainly don't think there is any truth to the statement that we are preying on the black community."

Moore did not deny charges that the value of some of the

Harvey Thornton joins Davis Realty team

Harvey Thornton has become the newest sales representative for Davis Realty in Long Beach.

Handling both residential and commercial properties, Thornton is also working with Davis Real Estate under the Dealership Program at Diamondhead Corporation. He will be responsible for coordination and training of Davis Realty sales personnel in the Diamondhead Corp. Resort Properties Division Program.

Thornton brings with him 15 years of experience as a sales representative, serving as salesman, New Orleans district field manager, and Gulfport-Biloxi branch manager for the Electrolux Corporation.

While working with the Electrolux Corporation, Thornton was several times district champion sales representative and won many performance awards in sales contests, including trips to Florida, the Bahamas, and New York.

Thornton says he considers himself a professional salesman: "I was the best salesman Electrolux had and I'm going to be the best real estate salesman in this county," Thornton says. His motto is: "We don't sell you, we help you buy."

Thornton and his wife, Faye, reside at 150 Markham Drive. They have three sons and one daughter and five grandchildren.

Let IRS do it

Taxpayers filing Form 1040, with adjusted gross income of $20,000 or less, who take the standard deduction, can have the IRS compute their tax, William Daniel, IRS District Director for Mississippi, said today. This applies to taxpayers whose income is solely from wages, salary, and tips, dividends, interest, pensions and annuities, he said.

"Those persons choosing to file the short Form 1040A can have the IRS compute the tax regardless of the amount of adjusted gross income," Daniel added.

To take advantage of this service, taxpayers need only complete certain portions of the tax return, attach W-2 forms, sign the return, and mail it to the address indicated in the instruction booklet by April 15.

Details on what must be completed on the return are in the instruction booklet for each type of tax return.

Daniel advised taxpayers with questions to call or visit the nearest IRS office. Toll-free telephone numbers are shown in the tax forms package this year.

Famed choir featured on inspirational broadcasts

World Conference broadcasts from Temple Square in Salt Lake City, Utah feature some of the world's most renowned religious music and messages of inspiration from the Mormon Church.

The 375-voice Salt Lake Mormon Tabernacle Choir, world-famed for broadcasts, concert tours and recordings, provide the music.

Leaders of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints offer counsel on how to achieve peace of mind. World Conference Broadcasts are presented in the public interest by KSL radio and television to more than 350 stations in Australia, Canada, Mexico, Central and South America, Europe and the United States.

The programs may be seen in South Mississippi on WDAM-TV, channel 7, in Hattiesburg.

TIRE FACTS

Studded tires should be marked for wheel position when they are removed, so they may be replaced on the same wheel next season.

Studded tires develop directional rotation patterns which makes this necessary, says the Tire Industry Safety Council.

Children's Easter Pageant winners announced

Easter Pageant winners Little Beau Rob Compretta and Little Miss Pamela Bermond.

Mlle. Pamela Bermond, three-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Bermond of Bay St. Louis, was judged Little Miss 1974 in the Bay Jaycettes' Children's Easter Pageant Saturday night.

Runner up to Mlle. Bermond was Mlle. Kristi Breland, three-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Breland.

Little Beau, 1974, was Master Rob Compretta, five-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Compretta. Selected a runner-up was Master Kevin Ladner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ladner, and another five year old.

The winners of the Baby Miss-Baby Beau Photo contest were Mlle. Ashley Barrett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William-Barrett, and Master Brent Anderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Anderson.

Runners-up were Little Kristen Reed, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Reed, and Master Matt Heitzmann, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Heitzmann.

The S.J.A. Gym was transformed into an Easter funland for the 90 contestants and the more than 300 viewers of the Easter Pageant.

The babies' photographs were nestled in Easter grass, with tiny bunnies peeking from behind pictures or into Easter baskets. Little Miss-Little Beau Contestants were framed by Easter trees, eggs and spring flowers.

Mrs. James Woodfin was accompanist as the children were introduced by mistress of ceremonies, Mrs. Thomas Chapman, and escorted to the judges by the Easter bunny.

Judges for both contests were Mrs. Catherine Young, assistant vice-president, Hancock Bank, Pass Christian, Wayne Pearson, an engineer for the Mississippi Test Facility, Mrs. Sandra Dugan, supervisor for the Youth Court Training program, and Mr. and Mrs. George Suter, representatives of radio station WPUP.

Winners of both contests received blue ribbons, engraved plaques, Easter baskets and $10 savings accounts. Runners-up received red ribbons, ceramic trophies, Easter baskets and $5 savings accounts. Each of the other contestants received white ribbons and Easter baskets.

The pageant was presented by the Bay St. Louis Jaycettes to raise funds for their youth service projects.

Mrs. Charles Parker, general chairwoman of the event, expressed the gratitude of the Jaycettes to the merchants and individuals who helped make the pageant the success it was.

Christ Episcopal Silver Tea is set for April 17

The Women of Christ Episcopal Church, through their president, Mrs. Gordon Gleim, announce that this year's Silver Tea, an annual gala social event, will be held at the home of Mrs. Claude Hogan of Waveland April 17.

All those who attend will be given the opportunity to tour the entire Hogan residence at 408 South Beach. The home is one of the more innovative architecturally to be erected following Hurricane Camille.

The home was built by Mrs. Hogan's husband, a general contractor in New Orleans and on the Coast.

Mrs. Gleim explained that the purpose of the annual event is to raise funds to support various missions stationed overseas and to support scholarship funds.

"The hours of the tea are from 2 until 5 and an open invitation is extended to all women," Mrs. Gleim said.

BRIDGE-STYLE SHOW

Pass Christian Ladies Golf Auxiliary will hold a bridge, tea and style show Thursday, April 18, at the Golf Club with Virginia Frith as chairman.

Cards will begin at 10 a.m. followed by the fashion show and tea at 1 p.m. Fashions will be shown by Sea Chest of Bay St. Louis.

Lois Bumgarner to wed William Hogan

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Elliott Bumgarner of New Orleans announce the engagement of their daughter Lois Ann to William Aiden Hogan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Blueford Hogan of Waveland and New Orleans.

The marriage will be celebrated June 21 at 7:30 p.m. at First Presbyterian Church, New Orleans. A reception will follow at Southern Yacht Club. Miss Bumgarner, whose mother is the former Dorothea Wofford of Taylor, Texas, is an alumna of Louisiana State University, Baton Rouge, La., where she was a member of Phi Beta Phi social fraternity. Her grandparents are Mrs. William Claude Wofford and the late Mr. Wofford, Taylor, Texas, and the late Mr. and Mrs. William Melger Bumgarner of Crockett, Texas.

INFANT BAPTIZED

Alan Peter Noonan Jr., infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Noonan Sr., was baptized Sunday afternoon at Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church with Rev. Michael Tracey, associate pastor, officiating.

Godparents were a maternal uncle, William Taylor, and paternal aunt, Mrs. Kenneth Fayard.

Following the ceremony a family get-together was held at the Noonan home.

Mr. Hogan, whose mother is the former Gwendolyn Davisson, attended Nicholls State University in Thibodaux where he was a member of Delta Sigma Phi social fraternity. The prospective bridegroom is a member of the Mid-Winter Cottillion. He is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Revola Alden Davisson of New Orleans and the late Mr. and Mrs. William Joseph Hogan of Hogansville, Georgia.

In The Pass

BY LORRAINE BOWES
452-2548

Russell Ellis, 15-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Ellis, Jr., of Pass Christian, served as page last week to State Senator Ben Stone of Harrison County, in the State Legislature in Jackson. Russell is a ninth-grade student at Coast Episcopal High School.

The Coast Episcopal High School German class placed second in a contest at the Foreign Language Fair held at the University of Southern Mississippi in Hattiesburg. German Students Elizabeth Byrne, Amy Daniel, Leslie Perry, Melanie Wingo, Hobart Shaw, Tommy Bramlett and Rodney Farnham presented "The Campbell Soup Skit".

Their German teacher is Mrs. Ellen Pendleton.

Also, last Friday night at Coast Episcopal High School, induction ceremonies were held for the Gertrude Stanton Chapter of the National Honor Society. Inductees were: Elizabeth Byrne, David Sandlin, Polly Martin, Mary Nell Farnham, David Kulick, Joe Doussan, Perry Clinkscales, Shirley Forte, Betsy Dedeaux, Steve Herring, Neal Barrentine, Debbie O'Steen, Milan Winward, Jeannie McClendon, Katherine Johnson, Coco LaFaye, Cathy Wood, Susan Hawkins, Anne Luck, and Celeste Mitchell. Congratulations all.

Flower show discussed

Edwardsville Homemakers Extension Club met April 2 at the home of Mrs. Edna Poolson, club president, with Mrs. Clarence Moran as hostess.

The annual flower and vegetable show was discussed and the date for the event will be selected later.

Plans were made for the Club's luncheon and dress review May 15 at Haverty's Restaurant, Waveland.

The meeting closed with the thought for April, "If your foot slips, you may recover your balance; but if your tongue slips, you cannot recover your words."

Echoes

Mr. and Mrs. Robert B. Freeman and children Cheryl, Sharon and Bobby of Dardanelle, Ark. were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Gerard J. Freeman of Bay St. Louis. The Robert Freemans came to visit with his father who has been ill. While here they also visited with Mr. and Mrs. Donald Freeman and his grandmother, Mrs. Katie Luc.

HAVE A HAPPY EASTER!!

Mrs. Rory V. Corbell

The marriage of Miss Pat Brown, daughter of Mrs. Mabel Brown of Clermont Harbor and the late Robert W. Brown, and Rory V. Corbell, son of Mrs. Joyce Krilling, Amarillo, Texas, and V. Corbell, Texas, was recently solemnized at Holy Ghost Catholic Church, Houston, Texas. The couple will make their home in Houston.

Bay.

The couple's chosen song, theme from Love Story, was played during the ceremony. The bride, escorted by her father and her stepfather, Harry Frosch Jr., wore a floor-length, heavily embroidered organza dress over satin. Her veil of illusion was held in place by a headpiece fashioned of satin and seed pearls.

Miss Debra Ann Stiglet attended her sister as maid of honor. Miss Jenell Barbazon, cousin of the bride, was bridesmaid and Miss Karen Seal, sister of the groom served as flower girl.

The bridesmaids wore lavender and pink dresses fashioned on the same lines as the bride's and the flower girl wore a dress and veil identical to the bride's.

Charles James Seal Jr. was his brother's best man and Harry Barbazon, cousin of the bride, was groomsman. Joseph Stiglet Jr. served as ringbearer.

At the reception following the ceremony, the bride's table held a three-tiered wedding cake flanked by silver candelabra.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. James Seal, Picayune, Mr. and Mrs. Allan Boe and daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Stiglet and family, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Burch, Mrs. Lynn Rasbury and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Frosch, all of New Orleans.

Committee chairmen announced

Louisiana Lieutenant Governor James E. Fitzmorris who was recently named Show General Chairman of the '74 Boy Scout Show, has announced the names of community leaders who will fill key committee chairmanships for the forthcoming show.

The theme of this year's scout show will be "Youth's New Dimensions" and the event will be presented in the North Hall at The Rivergate, foot of Canal Street, May 18 between the hours of 1 and 9 p.m. The show is being presented in New Orleans for the first time in a dozen years and is open to the public.

Fitzmorris announced that his committee chairmen include: Henry J. Engler, vice-chairman, supporting services; Ray Samuel, vice-chairman, promotion; and Joe Domino, vice-chairman, production.

Jerry Romig has been appointed chairman of the program committee, and Charles Teamer, chairman of the finance committee. In charge of ticket sales will be L. C. "Monty" Montgomery, Jr., while L. M. Haase is in charge of physical

Highest honor conferred on CEDS librarian

Mrs. Otto A. Wusnack, librarian at Coast Episcopal High School and Christ Episcopal Day School, has been selected by the Academic Council of the University of Mississippi as a recipient of a Taylor Medal in Library Science for 1974. This is the highest academic honor conferred by the University of Mississippi, and Mrs. Wusnack is the first person from the Department of Library Science to receive the medal.

The Taylor Medal Award was founded by Dr. William T. Taylor in memory of his son, the late Dr. Marcus Taylor, an alumnus of the University, for the purpose of "encouragement of meritorious scholarship and deportment." This memorial provided medals to students nominated for outstanding scholarship in a particular field combined with superior work in all other fields.

The Taylor medal was presented at the Honors Day program April 9.

Mrs. Wusnack, the former Prima Thomas of Bay St. Louis, is a graduate of Christ Episcopal Day School and of Bay High School. She was recently graduated from the University of Mississippi with highest honors.

EASTER EGG HUNT

arrangements. F. O. Cornay is chairman of health and safety, while Alden McDonald spearheads the ticket sales. S. J. Besthoff, III, is chairman of special guests, and H. D. "Von" Graham is head of the participation committee. Judging and awards committee chairman is Robert R. Eckart.

In announcing the names of his various committee chairmen, Fitzmorris exclaimed, "I am happy to be associated with such an outstanding group of civic and community leaders who are giving of their time and efforts in behalf of the '74 Scout Show. Of course, this is just a partial list of the many other men in the New Orleans area who are working to make the show an outstanding success."

Fitzmorris added, "People attending this year's show will see scouting as it exists today in the New Orleans area in approximately 175 live-action exhibition type booths. The show will depict the many vocations, avocations and skills that boys acquire through the Cub Scout and Scout programs, and the many faceted-high school-age exploring programs. Each participating Scout troop will assemble its own exhibit booth and each booth will have live action and narration. Prizes will be given to the troops judged having the best exhibit booths in various categories."

High school students presenting papers at the Junior Science and Humanities Symposium at the University of Mississippi March 29 discussed their work with Damon Wall (right), assistant professor of Electrical Engineering at Ole Miss and Symposium coordinator. Students included (from left) Gary K. Dearing, West Point, Ellen Anne Quinn, Greenwood, Joseph M. Majure, Louisville, Cynthia L. Wells, Columbus, David J. Landon, Bay St. Louis, and Lynn R. Jefferson, Vicksburg.

The Diamondhead Garden Club held its monthly meeting in April at the Country Club with President Billie Sorensen presiding. Nominating committee Chairman Mrs. Malcolm Mundy presented the slate of new officers elected for 1974-1975. Mrs. George Sorensen has been elected a second year as president of the Club, Mrs. Tom Shelton, vice president, Mrs. Richard Criss, secretary, Mrs. John Lewko, treasurer, and Mrs. W.L. Temple, corresponding secretary. A May installation luncheon honoring all new officers and members is scheduled. Others in attendance were: Mmes. Ken Saucer, Ethel Evans, Gus Elmer, A.P. Musso, Florence Kibling, Paul Milam Morgan Boutte, Marjorie Lion, Valerie Torrance, Eunice McMilliam, Mrs. Charlotte Potridge was welcomed as a new member. Guests present were Mmes. Nelda St. Germain of Panama, Shirley Mattison and Elizabeth Ott of Bay St. Louis. A luncheon followed the meeting and members proceeded to the estate of Mrs. Augustus Elmer to tour her beautiful garden.

Wednesday's bridge winners were Mrs. Myra Piland first place with Mrs. Kay Gex taking second place. Others in attendance were Mmes. Al Buffat, Mildred Cook, Mary Crevetta, Barbara Dickerson, Carl Greaves, Mary Hoppert, John Lewko, Isabel Lund and Connie Maggio.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Dickerson spent last weekend in Mobile, Alabama as the guests of Tom's sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. N.S. Whitman.

The Tom Sheltons are in Chicago, Illinois enjoying their grandchildren and visiting their daughter and family.

A new organization, "Diamondhead Citizens for Better Government" has been formed at Diamondhead under the direction of Mrs. Tom Dickerson. The aims of this group are to see that all qualified voters are registered and to become informed and familiar with all voting issues and elected officials on the county, state and national levels.

On Thursday April 25, at 7:30 p.m. there will be an open forum held at the Diamondhead sales office. Speakers for this forum will be John Rutherford, chancery clerk, on the "Structure of Hancock County Government" and George Heitzmann, Tax Assessor, speaking on "Property Tax." A question and answer session will follow the guest speakers presentations. All Diamondhead residents, property owners and interested Hancock County voters are urged to attend this meeting.

The junior class of Mr. Carmel in New Orleans spent a weekend here recently as the guests of Mrs. Rudy Valentino and her daughters. The group enjoyed the club and all the sports activities offered at Diamondhead.

Paul Milam is home after a brief hospital stay. George Sorensen is in Baptist Hospital undergoing tests.

The Jim Smiths returned recently from a trip to Aspen, Colorado where they enjoyed skiing and a winter vacation during our spring season. Mrs. Rudy Valentino was the dinner guest last Sunday of The Dan Roackrooms who reside in Lakeside Villa as summer residents.

The Bill Temples were dinner guests of Dr. and Mrs. John Kennedy in Slidell last Monday evening.

The Billy Fane Trio of Bogalusa will be featured at the Diamondhead Fireman's Ball in the Red Room at the Country Club on April 20 for members and their guests. All proceeds from this dinner-dance will go to the Auxiliary Volunteer Fire Department. If you want to have that special evening of good food and entertainment, as well as supporting your Volunteer Fire Department, make reservations now at the Club. The $25 charge includes dinner for two which will be served from 7:30 to 10 p.m. and dancing from 9 to 1.

The Bay-Waveland Garden Club's annual Flower Show will be held on April 20 at Christ Episcopal Church in Virginia Hall. All Diamondhead Garden Club members are invited to participate and attend this annual event and to enter flower arrangements or horticulture exhibits. The show will be opened to the public for viewing on Saturday at 2 p.m. and on Sunday, Mrs. William Temple is the hostess for the Judges' noon luncheon to be held at the Bay-Waveland Garden Center.

Mrs. Clarence Evans is chairman of the event with Mrs. Shirley Mattison assisting her.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Cameron announce the arrival of their third child and second daughter, Susanna Leigh, April 2 at Gulfport Memorial Hospital. She weighed six pounds, six ounces.

Mrs. Cameron is the former Freda Perniclaro, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Perniclaro, Bay St. Louis. Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Ramsey Cameron, Pass Christian.

Stanislaus and Bay High in double-header today

By Edward Favre
The St. Stanislaus Rock-A-Chaw baseball team will resume play Thursday afternoon with a double-header against Bay High School after dropping a pair of losses earlier in the week to Pass High and Long Beach High Schools.

The Rocks and the Bay High Tigers will meet at 3:30 p.m. in the first half of the double-header at Stanislaus field followed by the nightcap at 7 p.m. at Bay High School.

The Long Beach Bearcats defeated the Rocks 7-2 Tuesday at Stanislaus putting on a balanced hitting demonstration with two runs in the first and third innings, and a run in each of the fourth, sixth and seventh innings.

Stanislaus scored their two runs in the bottom of the first inning on a walk and two hits but didn't threaten again until the bottom of the fifth inning when they had runners on first and third. The Rocks, however, couldn't bring the runners in.

Rickey White was the winning pitcher, striking out nine batters, walking three and allowing only four hits.

Dan Ford was charged with the loss striking out seven, walking two and giving up eight hits.

The Rock-A-Chaws saw a 4-3 lead disappear in the bottom of the seventh inning Saturday as the Pass High Pirates scored two runs to edge a 5-4 win.

Bud Lang of the Rocks was charged with the loss while Carl Swanner was given credit for the win.

BWYC Backwash

by Ann Stieffell 467-6300

Bay Waveland's team sailed to a decisive victory in the Gulf Yachting Association Opening Regatta held April 6 and 7 at Jackson Yacht Club, officially beginning the 1974 racing season. Weather conditions ran the gamut from frosty mornings to balmy afternoons, from strong gusty planing winds to no breeze at all.

The first race in the GYA Scot class sailed in light fluky air had a very close finish with Albert Lamar of Jackson Yacht Club first, Bubby Hartson, Southern Yacht Club, second, and Bay Waveland's Bubby Eagan third, Ellen Eagan and Woody Stieffell crewing.

BWYC's Marc Eagan sailed to a first place finish in the second race in light variable breezes, Ellen Eagan and Rod Stieffell crewing. Jackson Yacht Club was second, giving them a one point lead over Bay Waveland.

For the final race Sunday Barnett Reservoir kicked up its heels to give the sailors what they had been looking for - lots of action. Woody Stieffell with Ellen and Bubby Eagan, crewing moved the Bay Waveland Scot into an early lead, and in spite of stopping dead on the reach as they went shrimping with the spinnaker, steadily increased the distance to win by a minute and 45 seconds over the second place boat.

Final positions of the GYA Scots with the low-point scoring system were: Bay Waveland Yacht Club 4 1/2, Jackson Yacht Club 11 1/2, Mobile Yacht Club 13, Southern Yacht Club 15, New Orleans Yacht Club 15, Buccaneer Yacht Club 16, Pensacola Yacht Club 19, St. Andrew's Bay Yacht Club 22, Ponchartrain Yacht Club 25, Singing River Yacht Club 31, Fairhope Yacht Club 34, Ft. Walton Yacht Club 35, Biloxi Yacht Club 38, Pass Christian Yacht Club 38.

Hjalmer Breit of Southern Yacht Club won the open Scot class. Ann Stieffell of Bay Waveland was second, with crew Weezie Kennedy and Cindy Stieffell. The first race of the open Scots was cancelled because the wind dropped after the start and none of the boats reached the first mark within the one hour time limit. Hjalmer Breit won the Saturday afternoon race, with Bubby Eagan in second place. Ann Stieffell finished first Sunday, with Breit in second.

Sunday-morning Jackson Yacht Club hosted the Fifty-Fourth Annual Meeting of the Gulf Yachting Association during which the investment of the following new officers took place: Commodore-President Henry E. Lampe, Jackson Yacht Club; Vice-Commodore William M.

Ellis, Southern Yacht Club; Secretary-Treasurer: Commodore J. Gilbert Scheib, Southern Yacht Club; Rear-Commodore: Dr. Eldon L. Bolton, Biloxi Yacht Club. Attending the opening regatta at JYC from Bay Waveland were Commodore and past president of GYA Alvin Weinfurter, Commodore and Mrs. Ray Stieffell, Mrs. Henry Chapman, Mr. William J. Watts Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Basil Kennedy, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stroh, Marc, Bubby and Ellen Eagan, Woody, Cindy and Rod Stieffell.

Back on the Coast Buzzy Heausler made a clean sweep in his Sunfish with five first place finishes in the D'Iberville Regatta sailed over the past two week-ends at Ocean Springs and Biloxi Yacht Clubs. Heausler was presented a gold medalion for his outstanding performance in the sailing event of the Biloxi Bay Colony's 275th Anniversary celebration. Cran Fraser of Southern Yacht Club was second.

Jourdan River Regatta - April 20 - 21.

Interest in the GYA Jourdan River Regatta is spreading to the neighboring yacht clubs who are talking about bringing their Scots and Sunfish to Bay Waveland for this annual classic. Lunch will be served at the Club both Saturday and Sunday of the Regatta in addition to the Sunday Dinner. All guests at the regatta are invited to attend the informal cocktail party "Bail the Bilge" after the race Saturday.

The annual Easter Dance for the Juniors will be held at BWYC on Saturday, April 13 from 8 to midnight, with music by Nantucket Sound. Admission will be $2 for members and $2.50 for guests. There will be a general membership meeting of the Juniors at 2 p.m. Saturday, April 13 in the Captain Harry Kock Junior Room at the Yacht Club. The purpose of the meeting is the election of new officers and to begin planning activities for the coming season.

ISLAND CRUISE - May 25-26.

The Ladies Luncheon is set for Wednesday, April 17. Guest speaker will be Felix Seeger, superintendent of Public Grounds and Sanitation Dept. for the city of Bay St. Louis.

Carmody will round at Reb's coaching staff

UNIVERSITY, Miss.—James E. "Jim" Carmody, defensive line coach at the University of North Carolina from 1967, has been named to football staff at Ole Miss. Athletic Director John H. Vaught announced Monday.

Carmody, who will replace Warner Alford as defensive line coach on new head coach Ken Cooper's Rebel staff, is a native of New Orleans and a 1956 graduate of Tulane.

He was a member of the Bill Dooley staff at North Carolina for seven seasons, 1967-73, with the Tarheels winning Atlantic Coast Conference championships in 1971-72.

Carmody's appointment complete's Cooper's staff. Charlie McCullers, offensive coordinator and backfield coach at Kansas, was the first addition. He was named backfield coach last January.

Barry Wilson, Georgia linebacker and defensive end coach, joined the Reb staff as linebacker coach in late February.

The complete staff listings include: Offensive line—Larry Travis, who transferred from 73 Rebel staff; Offensive Backfield, McCullers; Receivers, Eddie Crawford, backfield coach from 1971-73; Asst. Offensive Line and Kickers, Ray Poole, member of the Ole Miss staff from 1965.

Defensive Line—Carmody; Defensive Backfield, Taylor McNeel, in that position as a Thamas Coleman will continue as the Scout Team Coach and Scout. He joined the Reb staff May 1 of 1973.

Wes "Doc" Knight will continue as the athletic trainer, a position he has held since 1947.

Alford, co-captain of the Rebels' 1960 national champions and defensive line coach here from 1971, left the coaching ranks to become Assistant Director of Athletics and Director of Recruiting.

Local Babe Ruth League expands

The Bay St. Louis Babe Ruth Baseball League will field seven teams in two age groups this summer under the auspices of the Parks and Playgrounds Commission.

League President John Ginn announced the addition of a fifth team to the 13 to 15-year-old league, sponsored by the Rotary Club of Bay St. Louis. Rotary Club joins last year's sponsors American Legion Post 139, Coast Electric, Dixie Realty and Hancock Supply.

The 13-15 year-old-boys will play their games at Bay High baseball field on week nights.

Ginn also announced that the Bay St. Louis Babe Ruth Baseball League and the Parks and Playgrounds Commission had joined with other Gulf Coast community interests to form the Mississippi Gulf Coast Babe Ruth Senior League for 16 to 18-year-old boys.

Jim McCarthy, Bay St. Louis representative and vice-president of the new league, stated that two teams are entered, sponsored by Diamondhead and the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce, to compete with teams representing Harrison Central, Long Beach and Pass Christian, Six teams will play Thursday nights and Sunday afternoons in a home-and-away schedule.

All 13 to 18-year-old area boys and their parents are urged to watch this newspaper for announcements of registrations and tryouts to be held soon.

Rebs to test 'Bama in weekend SEC series

The Ole Miss baseball team, under Jake Gibbs and Larry Williams, bounced back from a three-game shutout by Alabama two weeks ago in the SEC Western Division race to come back strong this week against Delta State and Mississippi State.

The Rebels took two of three games with the Bulldogs of Mississippi State last Friday and Saturday, winning 5-2 Saturday and 3-2 in the opener Friday before losing the nightcap 6-3.

The two wins boosted the Rebel's league record to 4-5 in the SEC and 12-9 overall.

A crucial three-game series is on tap with Western Division leader Alabama this weekend in Tuscaloosa. A pair of seven-inning games are set for Saturday afternoon with the nine-inning finale on Sunday afternoon. The Tide swept all three games here March 29-30. Those scores were 6-3, 7-6, and 12-0.

In tennis, Coaches Jimmie

Hovious and Mack Cameron rounded out the Rebels final Conference campus showings this week with matches against Arkansas State Monday and two rugged SEC matches against Mississippi State and LSU on Wednesday and Thursday.

The Rebels will be seeking to capture their first league victory.

The improving Ole Miss golf team journeyed to the Bastrop, La. Invitational Tournament Monday-Tuesday. After a slow start, the Rebels shotmakers finished sixth in the Southwest Invitational in Dothan, Ala. and were second in the recent LSU-Jim Corbett Classic in Baton Rouge.

The April 11-17 calendar: April 11 Thursday—Tennis, LSU, Campus (1:30) April 13 Saturday—Baseball, Alabama, (2), Tuscaloosa April 14 Sunday—Baseball, Alabama, Tuscaloosa April 16 Tuesday—Baseball, Memphis State (2), campus April 17 Wednesday—Tennis, Delta State, Oxford

Waveland Jaycees

Bike Rodeo set for Saturday

Waveland Jaycees are announcing their first annual Children's Bike Rodeo, for boys and girls age 6 through 16, this Saturday.

Prizes will be awarded for first, second and third place winners in each category. The rodeo will be held at Elwood Memorial Park at the intersection of Central and Waveland avenues and registration is set for 9 to 10 a.m. Competition starts at 10.

Registration—qualification calls for each entrant's bike to be registered with the Waveland police department with issuance of a license plate and a 25 cents fee for entering the rodeo.

The rodeo will open with a bike inspection conducted by groups of Jaycees. Inspection will cover handle grips, saddle, wheels, reflector, coaster or hand brakes, chain, pedals, warning device, handle bars, light, spokes, tires and kickstand.

Judging and supervision will be handled by the Jaycees. Refreshments will be available. All area children are invited to participate in the rodeo.

Tender Loving Care

The old pharmacy is being renovated to accommodate the new EKG equipment. The room should be ready for use this week. Maintenance has done a good job in preparing the room. The new set-up will be a vital asset to HG.

Medical records welcome Sissie Stewart, Sissie will be working as a Medical Records stenographer and later be trained by a qualified social worker to serve as a social worker technician here at Hancock General.

Little League tryout-Saturday in Bay

Tryouts for the Bay St. Louis Little League will be held Saturday April 13 at McDonald Little League field for boys 12-years-old and under who are interested in participating in the summer baseball program.

Tryouts for 10-year-olds and under will start at 9 a.m. followed by tryouts for 11- and 12-year-olds at 11 a.m. Proof of age must be presented before any youth can participate in tryouts.

A Stone County runner shows the pressure of the moment as he waits to receive the baton in the 880 relay.

The Bay High track team swept all three team victories in the St. Stanislaus Invitational Track Meet Monday in a surprising show of strength.

The St. Stanislaus team was a close second in senior high boys' competition, but the Tigerettes and Bay Junior High team left the contention far behind.

Taking individual firsts in the Senior high boys for the Bay Tigers were Steve Piazza in the discus with a throw of 155 feet seven inches, Gilbert Whavers in the shot put with a toss of 50 feet nine inches, Mike Richardson in the 120 high hurdles and 180 low hurdles (tie), Hawkins in the 100 yard dash, and Morris, Hinson, Farve, and Hawkins in the 440 relay.

U.S. HWY. 90 PHONE 467-3333 BAY ST. LOUIS

By L.S. (Doc) Elliott

April showers came Sunday night—after a beautiful weekend of perfect weather. Regarding salt water fishing, I repeat, it is still on the slow side. (I mean in the Pearl River, Bayou Caddy out front of the Bay and the Jourdan River areas). I am not speaking of the Chandeaur Islands area which is about 35 miles away.

A few medium sized specks were caught in Bayou Caddy during the past week. Bass and perch fishing was good, mostly in Black Bayou and Mills Bayou where the water was perfectly clear all the way down to the mouth of Black Bayou Saturday afternoon. Bass were caught both on surface plugs and bugs. Perch were gotten on small perch bugs, beetle spins and other small under water baits.

I repeat—again—Harry Roman, Hoke Ogden and Louis Decell didn't even catch sheephead over the weekend, in nearby water, according to them.

Luke Elliot and Sue, their son Chipper, Evelyn and son, Clint, with Mr. and Mrs. Neal Richard, spent the weekend with the Dec Elliotts. They were celebrating Luke's 50th birthday and the men folks doing some fresh water fishing. Ray Garner joined the fishing party. Yours Truly was also along. Made a nice catch of bass and Perch. Neal is from Baton Rouge, La. Dr. Chipper is from Lafayette, La.

Junior Bourgeois caught a few speckles in Bayou Caddy one day last week. They weren't too large, reported Junior. He caught them in mixed-up water on small white shrimp he caught along the seawall. Must be beginning to come in, the specks, I mean!

We mentioned Bowfin (Choupique) fish in this column last week. About a four pounder was hooked in Black Bayou. It put up a real fight, something resembling a red fish.

Gumbo crabs are being caught in traps according to Jos. Taconi. Should be getting larger, he claimed.

For those who still fish with perch-poles or slaughter poles with live baits for bass and perch there are such baits as crickets, grasshoppers, small frogs, earth worms, minnows, small crayfish and grass shrimp which can be found and caught without cost. Our ditches most everywhere are full of baits which come from the water and earth worms, crickets and grasshoppers are gotten in most any field or wood piles where leaf-mold, grass or rotten wood is found.

A small line, hook, cork and sinker is all that is needed to catch the fish. Still fishing is a lot of fun. Fishing from the bank of any stream is recommended. No boat is necessary, but is convenient if you have one. Perch and bass are beginning to spawn.

Quite a number of striped Bass are being caught by those fly-fishing and casting. They are a real game fish. When they are around more are caught when one is hooked as they run in schools. They are also known as Barfish. The average weight is about one to two pounds, but sometimes weigh as much as five pounds. They put up a real scrap when hooked, and are considered by some anglers the equal of the Black Bass in this respect.

If you happen to hook a snapping turtle, handle it with care. They furnish a delicate food and have been known to reach a weight of 40 pounds or better. They will snap anything that comes their way. A powerful brute. Turtles are found mostly in bayous and shallow bays.

Blue crabs should be making their appearance soon. They are a very important commercial seafood and a favorite everywhere. May through August are the best months for catching them. When caught during the full moon their shells are full of meat. It is best to return females to the water especially when they have eggs. Fish heads or chicken necks are ideal to use as bait when crabbing.

Wonder what has become of John Israel? Haven't seen him out fishing for some time. Now is the time to go fly fishing John. They are really hitting.

SPORTSMAN OF THE WEEK - Is Tony Scavo, who is described by his friends as a "happy-go-lucky" fisherman. Tony fishes a little but prefers catching hard crabs and eating them.

Another lost by the way side is Dick Mestayer. Where have you been? Bass and perch fishing is tops right now. Let us hear from you.

The rain of the past weekend made some back yard garden enthusiasts very happy. It helped the young plants plenty.

Did you know that fish heads, backs, etc., from cleaning fish buried in the garden make excellent fertilizers?

Robert (Bud) Genin, Pat Griffith and another fishing partner made a nice catch of fresh water fish Saturday. They put over at Roy Baxter's. An excellent camp to launch your boat at Pearlinton. It is right in the heart of the best fresh water fishing areas.

Ronnie and Dottie Treptow and children, Christine, Carolyn and Pauline from Baltimore, Md., are visiting their parents Mr. and Mrs. Bob Glassell of Waveland. Ronnie is a real fisherman and loves the sport. He expects to do quite a bit of his favorite sport while down on the Gulf Coast. There is plenty of it down this way, Ronnie.

Another young sport is Alton Sick. He is with the City Police Dept. Does both fishing and hunting and loves both sports.

Ocean Springs, 3-2 over Bay High

By Edward Favre
The Ocean Springs Greyhounds defeated the Bay High Tigers 3-2 in a Gulf Coast Conference Baseball game at Tiger Stadium in Bay St. Louis, Tuesday afternoon.

The Tigers had a 1-0 lead at the end of two innings of play.

Registration today for Little League

Boys eight to 12-years-old who are interested in participating in the summer baseball program in Waveland may sign up for Pee Wee or Little League team April 10-11 and April 13 at Elwood Park in Waveland. Registration will be at 4 p.m. Wednesday and Thursday and all day Saturday.

In the top of the third inning the Hounds tied the score 1-1 on a walk and a hit.

In the top of the fourth inning Ocean Springs went ahead 2-1 and in the top of the fifth inning picked up another run to lead 3-1.

Going into the bottom of the seventh inning the Tigers trailed 3-1. Fairconneture led off for the Tigers reaching first base on an error and then scoring after Piazza walked.

and Hinson got a single, making the score 3-2 in favor of Ocean Springs, with two outs. Thomas pinch hit for Fine grounding out to the second baseman ending the ball game.

S. Gilbert was the winning pitcher. L. Hinson was charged with the loss.

German class scores second overall win

The German Class of Coast Episcopal High School won second place overall in the recent Modern Language Association meeting at the University of Southern Mississippi with an original German language skit.

The vignette portrayed a family coming in for a supper of soup, announcing their favorite kinds, going through small squabbles over the soup, introducing the Campbell soup kids, and ending with the well-known announcement that Campbell Soup is "gut."

Those participating were Tommy Bramlett, Amy Daniel, Rodney Farnham, Leslie Perry, Hobart Shaw, Melanie Wingo and Judy Williamson.

Mrs. Karola Williamson directed the class and accompanied the students to Hattiesburg.

Babe Ruth tryouts planned for Coast

Allen Wellford, president of the Gulf Coast Babe Ruth Baseball organization, said this week that tryouts for the 1974 season would be announced shortly for the communities of Pass Christian, Bay St. Louis, and Long Beach.

Wellford said that six teams from the coast area would be formulated this season to participate in the program for 16 to 18-year-olds. Communities represented will be Pass Christian, Bay St. Louis, Harrison Central, and Long Beach.

The Coast All Stars will participate this year in the State All Star tournament slated for Hernando, Mississippi. Regionals will be held in Lawrenceburg, Tennessee with the world series scheduled for Mattoon, Illinois. Wellford said Babe Ruth Baseball was the world's largest baseball league for young men and was an extremely fertile ground for professional and collegiate scouts.
